Ex governor of Enugu State and ex senator Chimaroke Nnamani will be showing up at a rally today at Nike Lake Grammar School in Enugu, as he tries to return to the senate under the newly-formed People for Democratic Change (PDC).

Anyone that shows up is guaranteed 2,000 Naira, assuming you get past hungry areaboys to get your share.

2,000 is the going rate for "stomach infrastructure" for anyone that turns up whenever Nnamani visits a street in the wards in his Enugu East constituency.
